Below: Georgia Veverka, Amelia Merrill, Callie Frey, Sara Matsumura, and Mariah Papac chill on their raft on the Yampa River.

Bottom: On the Iron Chef interim, Harper Coleman-Houghton, Madeleine Baneth, and Sophie Smith present their dish to the judges.

Every year, students have the chance to embark on a week of learning and adventure through a program called Interim. Last year's choices included hiking, rafting, cooking, and exotic explorations to countries such as Spain and Ecuador.

INTERIM

Below: Sam Galvez, Clarissa Seebohm, Omar Shihab, Wesley Johnston, Adrienne Parkinson, Astrid Lindgren, and Sean McDaniel went hiking with Mark Oftedal as part of their interim, Adventures in Our Backyard.

Below center: Megan Chandramouli, Jenna Reed, and Sophia Diehl are excited.

The 2014 Aloha Stomp, held at the McCarthy Campus, was truly a party this year. Students were dressed in summer clothes, as well as Hawaiian leis and grass skirts. There was a photo booth where everyone could capture the night with their friends and entertain themselves with funny poses. In the end, it was a great way to kick off a great year.

Aloha Stomp

Halloween

The Halloween Stomp is an annual dance to celebrate the day of all things spooky. This year, it took place in the Lincoln Campus cafeteria and was a night full of fun costumes, good friends, and loud music. Like the Aloha Stomp, we had a photo booth that students got to enjoy over the course of the night. Lots of students attended, and all had a wonderful time.

Candice Nkoy looks purr-fect, while Zach Levinthal's swag levels are astronomical. Madison Ostergren and Luke Mathers take a break from Mathers Farm to dance at the Halloween Stomp. Meg Janes, Gillian Larsen, Katie and Caeli Kennedy are the friendliest Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles we've ever seen.

Clockwise from right: Zach Pollatsek and Chris Fedor remind us that going back to school means sharing summer memories and bonding over high-fives. Yiyi Song and other students take advantage of the new café, using it as a space for working, eating, and socializing. Anna Reganis, Georgia Larsen, Lauren Rasich, Grace Veghte, Alyssa Cole, Liza Badenhausen, Maddie Hansen, and Candice Nkoy gather together for a group photo on the first day of the school year. Fanny Dufour, Kelsi Liu and Rustin Armknecht converse after Convocation on the first day.

With Convocation held in the Larimer Center due to rain and lightning, this year started off a little differently than past years. Upon arriving in the Upper School, students noticed a few changes like the new café and the Maker Space.

School Begins

For the second year in a row, the 9th grade class trip took place at Camp Roger in the Uintah Mountains, a camp with no cell phone service. The 9th grade spent their five days up in the mountains hiking, fishing, painting, and wading through beaver ponds. This experiential learning helped the class understand the ecosystem of our very own mountains.

9th Grade Class Trip

Below: Allie Zehner goes to spike a ball down to Aiko Miller's side of the court after Emma Reuling sets it to her.

Clockwise from the right: Maddie Barker and Anna Greenberg laugh as they approach the dock. Kaela Gilbert and Maddie Dacklin scream in excitement. Jack Scarfe approves his Project 10 experience. Brendan Valentine and Carolina Andrus row their soaked boat.

Right: Catherine Rogers and Sam Hirsch enjoy their time at the Great Salt Lake. Far right: Tarik Basic signals his classmate that he has survived the sophomore experience.

Clockwise from below: Jacqueline Graham and Rachel Morse are on the brink of sinking their boat. Sommer Glasgow and Cindy Shen can't believe they're actually rowing a cardboard boat. Sam Hirsch and Jason Cowdrey sink uncomfortably in their own creation. Ms. Tobin assists Michael Vitek as he hysterically laughs as his classmates sink their boat.

This year's 10th grade experience at Beyond the Classroom was similar to last year as sophomores journeyed to the Great Salt Lake and designed cardboard boats with cardboard. With limits this year on supplies and size, more boats than usual ended up sinking.

Beyond the Classroom

Spirit Week

This year's Spirit Week was exceptionally fun with its variety of school spirit days. On Monday, students started the week dressing up in comfy pajamas. On Tuesday, students modeled their denim fashion. On Wednesday, each individual grade was assigned to represent a decade. Freshmen represented the '50s, sophomores represented the '60s, juniors represented the '70s, and seniors represented the '80s. On Thursday, the students showed up in crazy apparel for mismatched day. And last, students showed their national pride by dressing up in American colors. Some international students dressed up in their countries' colors to show pride in their own nations.

Below: Rustin Armknecht, Marley Griffiths, and Sophie Cox go groovy on decades day.

The canned food drive was a huge success this year. Students and faculty attended canapalooza talent show to kick off the annual service event. Over 1500 cans and $500 were donated in one night. The October canned drive this year donated a total of 8000 pounds of food for the Crossroads Urban Center.

Left: Abby Thomsen was, as always, wonderful to both watch and hear in the role of Nancy.

This year's fall play was Oliver, a musical based on the book Oliver Twist by Charles Dickens. It was unique in that it encompassed not just Upper and Middle School students but third through fifth grade Lower School students as well. It starred the young but impressive James Quirk as the title character of Oliver and hosted a packed audience every night in the Larimer Center. Overall, the play was met with good reviews and was enjoyed by all who attended.

Bottom: The young pickpockets watch with interest as their leader Fagin (out of frame) teaches them a thing or two about life on the London streets.

Clockwise from below: The team gathers around senior Liza Badenhausen to celebrate after scoring a point. Freshman Emily Fowler and junior Arielle Flynn fly into the net to block a point. Junior Sara Matsumura jumps in the air to serve the first ball of the game. Sara Matsumura runs down the court, high-fiving lower school students and her teammates. Arielle Flynn keeps her eye on the ball as she sets up to score.

The girls' volleyball team had a great season this year. They went undefeated and went on to win the region championship for the second season in a row. Despite having an amazing season, the team lost the state championship title this year. Nice job this year, ladies!

Girls' Volleyball

Far Right: Katie Foley focuses all her attention on striking the ball.
Right: Sophia Neilsen aims her racket for the ball.

Right: Team Captain Anna Heslop throws up the ball preparing to serve it to her teammate..

The girls' tennis team had a strong season this year. They took region and placed second in state. The 10 person team was led to victory by senior Anna Heslop. She said, "I'm proud of the girls this year. They're so much fun to be around and I will miss them next year!" Throughout the season the girls worked to improve their tennis skills while also creating lasting friendships. These relationships will propel the team in the 2015 season!

The Rowland Hall girls' soccer team had a historic and successful season with the victory at the 2A state tournament against Waterford at Rio Tinto Stadium. Captains Grace Veghte, Kelsey Oliver, and Mariah Papac, along with the rest of the team, built strong bonds with each other. The team played hard and practiced diligently while at the same time having to deal with Rowland Hall's rigorous academics. Congratulations, girls' soccer team!

Abigail Thomsen and Jenna Reed hang out before the service. Miabella Brickey, Davis Porges, Zach Levinthal and Henry Gilbert performed an excellent job as acolytes.

This year's Candle and Carol featured excellent music from choir, orchestra, the band combos, and an exceptional solo by Mary Anne Wetzel, the Student Council advisor. In addition to these music contributions, Interfaith council members Eileen Hopf and Sam Galvez, and Mr. Long, Mr. Brink, and Mr. Thomsen read passages from the Bible. The service concluded with Bishop Hayashi's remarkable speech about the power of music then students and parents headed to the social space to enjoy the homemade refreshments.

Holidays at Rowland Hall are always exciting. From the food giveaways the performance of the Grinch, Rowland Hall never loses the spirit of celebrating festivity. This year Mr. Mond and Sophia Diehl narrated the Grinch, and in spite of celebrating this event, Student Council decided to encourage the student body to dress in their best holiday attire. Who wore it best?

Winter Play

In the winter trimester, the Rowland Hall theater department tackled Frankenstein with a unique cast. Different from the common method, Rowland Hall's Frankenstein featured a female Victor Frankenstein played by Ailish Harris. Throughout the play, the cast performed difficult and intense scenes that showed a great level of acting.

This year's New York themed Winter formal was at the Gallivan Center in downtown Salt lake City. Students lined up for a photo booth with various New York themed props such as Statue of Liberty hats, feather boas and oversized sunglasses. The dance was a huge success and students had a lot of fun dancing together.

This year's debate team was the most successful in school history, bringing home championships at every Utah tournament and at three national tournaments. The high school team is made up of approximately 50 debaters who participate in a variety of events, including Public Forum, Lincoln-Douglas, and Policy debate. Four partnerships have received qualifying bids to the Tournament of Champions, the most prestigious tournament of the year. Rowland Hall also holds the second-greatest number of Tournament of Champions bids in the nation. Congratulations on a great season!

CHOIR/ORCHESTRA

This year's choir and orchestra were pushed to the edge. The orchestra learned 32 songs in less than two months for the Oliver Musical, and the choir managed to sing a 25 minute mass, which was their greatest accomplishment this year! Both groups joined to perform their first concert with songs exclusively from films, including songs from Downton Abbey and the West Wing.

Band

This year was a great year for our jazz band combos! They did everything from getting invited to the Jazz Festival in late February to having the 5th period Jazz Combo win first place at the Jazz Peak Festival. In addition, the band combos cheer our mornings by performing phenomenal music.

The swim team had a strong season this year led by captains Kelsey Oliver and Donovan Murphy. Swimmers finished the season with a strong performance at the Utah 2A State Championship Swim Meet with a 3rd and 4th place finish for the women's and men's teams, respectively. Among the myriad of personal best swims, two of our swimmers became 2A State Champions (Kelsey Oliver and Isaac Landau). Most importantly, it was a tight-knit team of kind-hearted, supportive individuals who are there for each other both in and out of the pool.

Kyle Eng, Chris Diehl, and the coaches led the team through an enjoyable season. The boys showed improvement and bonded as friends. All the teams, the varsity, junior varsity, and the freshman/sophomore team fought hard all season long. Team spirit was evident everytime the boys took the court! Sadly this season came to a bittersweet end as this was Coach Hinton's last year.

GIRLS Basketball

This year, both the Varsity and Junior Varsity Girls Basketball teams were fairly successful. The girls worked hard to play well as a group and to improve their technique. Their hard work certainly paid off. This year was also Coach Bill Tatomer's last year leading the team and, while everyone will miss him, the senior girls are especially grateful to have had him by their side as they played their last games before graduation.

Publications

By the time the yearbook comes out at the end of the year most students don't think about the work that went into it. August through May we work tenaciously to try to collect photos, layout pages, and write captions. In addition to working on the yearbook, we also write articles for the school newspaper. It's incredibly rewarding to see everyone enjoy the finished product

Student Council

Some students ask: "What does Student Council do other than giving announcements?" With help of the kind and loving Mary Anne Wetzel, Student Council were able to plan dances and new activities throughout Rowland Hall's school year. Other than planning activities, StuCo. members discussed and solved important issues in our school. Congratulations Student Council, for leading our student body with great leadership!

Academics

Because Rowland Hall is a college preparatory school, academics are prominent in the lives of our students. From presenting Sophomore Symposium to meeting with Utah's legislature, our students excelled to the best of their abilities throughout the year.

Clockwise to the right: Benjamin Wilmore presents a panel on 19th century homosexuality. Cindy Shen and Elizabeth Izampuye laugh their stress out before presenting their panels. This year marks the 6th year of the New Zealand Exchange program. Rowland Hall sophomores, Davis Porges, Kenzo Okazaki, Isaac Landau, Adie Christiansen, and Lena Chan, hosted the Kiwis, Tom Verberne, Mark Hazelton, Charles Black, Madison Dearlove, and Hannah Ellen. The five Kiwis travelled from New Zealand to Utah and stayed for the month of January. In the summer, our RH Students will be reuniting with their exchange buddies at their school - St Peters School in Cambridge, New Zealand.

Student Life!

Our students' daily life varies throughout the year. From showing school spirit to enjoying the small moments in and outside the classroom, our students always find a way to cheer one another and live healthy lifestyles. These are some of the moments that brought smiles and laughter to our students.

After planning a spring stomp, Student Council hit upon the fantastic idea of planning an alternative school event during the winter trimester. The alternative stomp took place at the Sandy Classic Fun Center where students enjoyed the arcade, roller-skating, laser tag and other fun activities. The stomp had great attendance and StuCo looks forward to making this alternative event a school tradition in the future.

Thank you!

Leo Hopf

Thank you so much for contributing all the pictures for swimming, orchestra, choir and volleyball. The yearbook would be incomplete without your help!

Kyle Matsumura

Thank you for taking photos for volleyball as a dedicated parent and photographer, we appreciate all of your contributions.

Angela Tooze

Thank you for helping to organize senior ads, spelling names, and with all of your help with the yearbook in general.

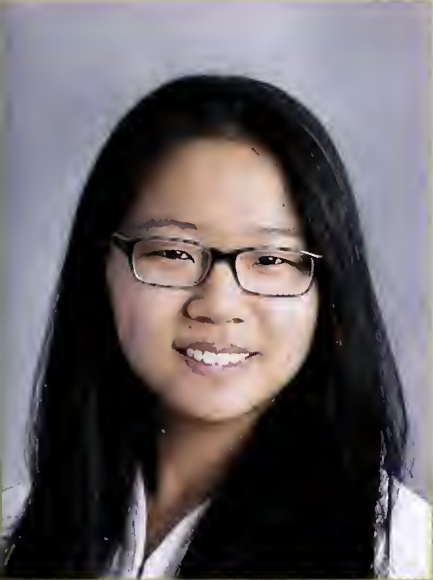

Linda Hampton

Without Linda, the yearbook would have considerably more misspellings and other errors. Linda was one of our most important editors. Thanks for all the help!

Julie Shipman

Julie assisted this year with completion of the many Senior Ads. The staff would never complete that section without her help!

Claire Wang

Claire is our secret editor, writer, designer, and constructive critic. Knowing how many other things Claire was involved in this year, we are grateful for the time she gave us!

Stuart Ruckman

Stuart is responsible for many of the photographs that make our performing arts pages so great! Thank for all the hard work, Stuart!

Stephanie Orfanakis

Stephanie oversaw many of the photos related to the beginning of school and other school events. We appreciate her enthusiasm and last minute support!

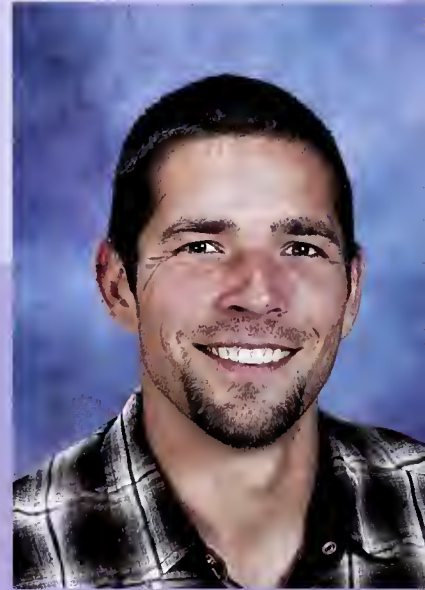

Bruce Hunter

Bruce Hunter has put in 17 years of Senior class meetings, books of the week, recommendations, college visits, tours, negotiations, and efforts on behalf of our students. As a result, our students have been accepted to the best colleges and universities in the world. Bruce has a passion for college counseling that is unparalleled. We wish him all the best in his new pursuits. Thanks for all you have done, Bruce!

Aaron Hinton

Aaron has been an incredible teacher in the middle school and an inspiring coach for the Boys Basketball team. We wish him the best as he heads off to Law School and beyond!

Steve Mond

Steve began teaching at Rowland Hall in 2009 and has been a valuable member of the Math department. In addition to holding many different degrees and being one heck of a smart guy, Steve Mond is a great friend and teacher. We will miss you!

Juanita Cordero

Juanita served thousands of lunches and brought smiles to everyone who met her. She helped many of us better understand and learn proper Spanish too. We wish her all the best as she moves back to family in California.

Stephen Brink

Stephen Brink joined us this year and assisted with Latin and World Religions in the middle and upper school. We appreciated his energy and enthusiasm all year long!

Michelle Rasich

Michelle will be moving from a combination of college counseling and financial aid to the full time replacement for Bruce Hunter as the Director of College Counseling. Michelle is excited to take on the position and plans to hit the ground running. We are lucky to have such a seamless transition in the college counseling office.

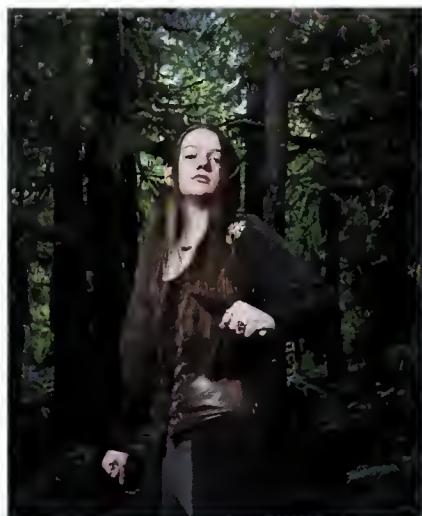

Farewells & Changes

Ryan Hoglund

Ryan joined the Rowland Hall community in August 1999. He served as the Academic Support Counselor and Assistant Principal and has taught political science, world religions, and was head coach of the debate team. Now Ryan will be our new Director of Ethical Education, a position that makes the most of his passion for diversity, sustainability, ethics and community building. Congrats!

Above: Cynthia Grissom, Eileen Hopf, Julia Sanderson, and Sophia Nelson pose in a beautiful 18th century castle.

Dresses, suits, and rain, oh my! However, the rain didn't stop students from dancing the night away. This year's prom was held at This is the Place Heritage Park in the Garden Place building. The banquet hall was adorned with sparkling lights and elegant flowers, which gave the room a summertime ambience. After dinner, cupcakes were offered, including a raspberry cake, a coffee cake, a chocolate cake, and a coconut cake. In addition to delicious cupcakes, there was an awesome photo booth set up. Tianxing and Oliver Jin created a way for students to pick their own backgrounds using a green screen. This green screen choice was a huge success! Now students have a unique way to remember an amazing night.

Below: Due to the rain, many of the students including Cynthia Grissom, Sophia Deihl, Jenna Reed, Kiana Webster, and Eileen Hopf, and Megan Chandramouli had to carry umbrellas to keep dry.

Clockwise from right: Candice Nkoy lip syncs fabulously to a Beyonce song. Fiona McGann survives dodgeball. Knox Heslop and Davis Porges lip sync to "A Whole New World" from Disney's Aladdin. The faculty perform "Roundabout." Jack Scaife runs after Chris Diehl during flag football.

This year's Battle of the Classes included flag football, quiz bowl, Super Smash Bros., music videos, dodgeball, knockout, ping pong, and the lip sync contest. The freshmen had some surprising success in defeating the sophomores in both the music video and the lip sync, but in the end, the senior class took first place with an outstanding lip sync mash-up. Our faculty even surprised the student body with their own 1970s lip sync. The results ended with seniors in first, juniors in second, sophomores in third, and freshmen in fourth.

This year's baseball team introduced a variety of new freshmen players who worked hard and played well. The baseball team was led by senior, Shabir Aminzada, and captains, Kyle Eng and Will Dischmann. In Region 14, Kyle Eng had a stellar performance pitching a complete game with 15 strikes and batting 1.000 in a 10 to 4 win. With such a young team, Rowland Hall will only be stronger in the upcoming years.

This year's softball team was led by captains Josie Anderson, Harper Coleman-Houghton, and Rachel Nelson. They helped lead the team to 3rd place in the region and a place in the state tournament. The team was smaller, without seniors and mostly comprised of new players. Despite that, the team bonded quickly and worked very well together. They once again hosted the annual "Swing for Life" tournament to raise money to find a cure for breast cancer, totaling about $20,000. The team had an overall great season; way to go girls!

Boys' Soccer

This year the boys' soccer team had a another great season! Led by seniors Riley Nevins, Evan Webber, Chris Diehl, Max Fisher, Andrew Logue, Cory Abdalla, Zach Pollatsek and Zach Levinthal, the team had many victories on their home field and at away games.

Clockwise from the right: Willem Seethaler serves the ball over the net with passion! The 2015 boys' tennis team included Jason Cowdrey, Eric Kimball, Tarik Basic, Aaron Friedman, Willem Seethaler, Soren Feola, Ishaan Krishnan, Ethan Williams, Ben Espinosa, Jackson Byck, Chris Ausbeck, Simon Tucker, and coach Susan Daynes. Jackson Byck dishes up a serve. Captain Aaron Friedman swings with his backhand to get a low shot over the net.

Ethan Williams serves with skill. Ishaan Krishnan lines up his forehand. Soren Feola, Eric Kimball, Coach Susan Daynes, Jackson Byck, and Ben Espinosa walk onto the tennis court with style.

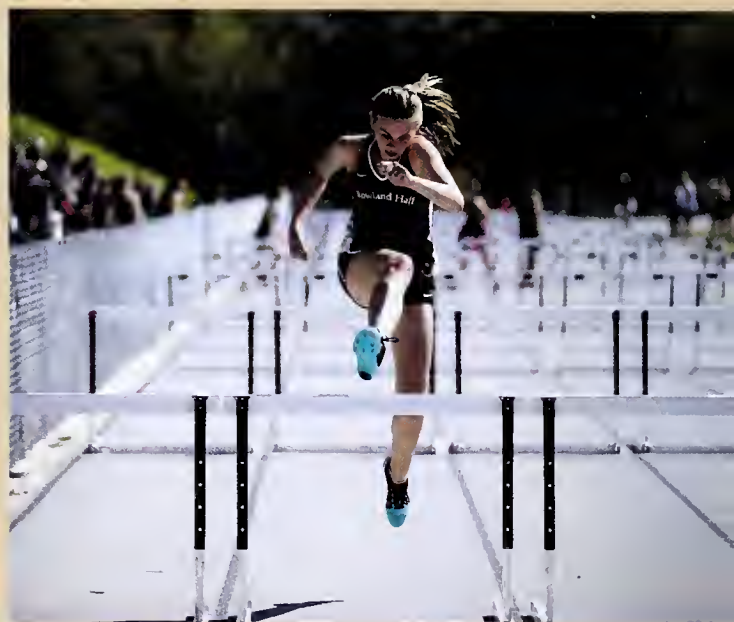

This year, the boys' tennis team, led by captain and lone upperclassman Aaron Friedman, took 2nd place in the Region Tournament, with every varsity member qualifying to the State Tournament. The youthful team achieved high levels of success throughout the season, even beating much larger schools like West High in exhibition matches.

Boys' Tennis

Right: Beloved Coach Mark Oftedal always has a cheery disposition on and off the track.

Far right: Allison Bagley conquers both physical and mental hurdles in order to succeed in the sport.

Coaches Mark Oftedal, Roland Tolbert, Bruce Hunter, and Christy Whitman lead the Track and Field Team to an impressive season with the girls' team taking home the region title in a decisive victory. Seniors Eli Oftedal, Lauren Rasich, Candice Nkoy, and Alexis Zheng also helped lead the team in their success by setting the standard for hard work and dedication. Eli Oftedal broke two 2A state records in the 1600m and the 800m running personal bests of 4:24.87 and 1:53.63. However, as any athlete on the track team will testify, their successes would not have been possible without the watchful eye of head coach Mark Oftedal who received the honor of 2A Coach of the Year for all sports.

Girls' Golf

This year has been the girls' golf team's strongest year yet. With six players, the team dominated their region and won the region championship in a landslide. Led by Coach Stacey Camacho and Assistant Coach Arthur Phillips, all six girls placed in the top eight of the region. Seniors Grace Veghte and Georgia Larsen will be missed next year, but the team will only continue to grow stronger.
